COUPLE UNITED IN CHARMING CEREMONY
The home of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Pierce at 1409 Amapola provided the setting for a charming wedding when Miss Geraldine Stacey became the bride of Mr. Mack H. Selby, Friday evening, October 2. Rev. G. G. Elder performed the ceremony in the presence of 25 intimate friends and relatives. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. L. G. Dufford sang. The bride beautifully costumed in a white satin gown and carrying yellow roses and white sweet peas, entered alone and proceeded to the arch where the marriage vows were pronounced. Immediately following the ceremony Mrs. L. G. Dufford was held. A beautifully decorated wedding cake was cut by the bride and served with punch to the assembled guests. Mr. and Mrs. Selby then left for a motor trip north, after which they will be at home to their friends at 1048 36th Place, Los Angeles. Mr. Selby is the brother of Mrs. L. N. Pierce. He has been in the employ of the post office at Los Angeles for the past 10 years.

Bible Class To Hold Stag Party Tuesday
A stag party and program will be given next Tuesday night by the Torrance Men's Bible class at the social hall of the Christian church to which all men of the community and especially all business men are cordially invited. A speaker of national reputation will be present to give an unusual address on business topics, according to G. L. Morris, president of the class. A fine program is also being arranged for the occasion. Tomorrow, Friday, night a business meeting of the executive committee of the class will be held at the home of Rev. George Elder for the purpose of making plans for the coming winter months. Morris said yesterday that he expected to have the "Singing Longs," evangelists, make a return appearance at the Bible class next Sunday morning.

IN THE AMUSEMENT WORLD

State Acquires Beach Property
Making available to the public 278 feet of additional beach frontage, the State Park Commission has acquired an area extending from Thirteenth street to Rosenzweig avenue in Manhattan Beach. The county will administer the life guard and maintenance services of the area beginning October 1.

The frontage was acquired under the $5,000,000 bond issue of the state at a cost of $176,000 and will be matched dollar for dollar with frontage at Manhattan now belonging to the county.

Hayakawa, Anna May Wong Return to Screen
After a 12-year absence from the screen, Sessue Hayakawa, gifted oriental thespian, who will always be remembered for his role in "The Cheat," resumes his American cinema career. He is cast with Anna May Wong and Warner Oland in "Daughter of the Dragon," Paramount's talkie thriller from another Sax Rohmer mystery plot. It is the chief attraction Sunday and Monday at the Torrance Theatre.

Hayakawa, from Kyoto, Japan, accepted the role by cable. He has been touring the world in his own dramatic and vaudeville productions since his retirement from pictures.

In returning to the Paramount studios for the resumption of his interrupted screen career, Hayakawa again joins hands with the organization which made him the leading oriental actor of his day. At the same time, Anna May Wong, featured with Hayakawa in "Daughter of the Dragon," was starring in her own oriental production. She later appeared on the New York stage in "On the Spot" and came to Hollywood concurrently with Hayakawa's arrival. In "Daughter of the Dragon," Hayakawa is cast as a Scotland Yard operative.

Cadet Makes Good With Red Jackets; Stars As Baseman
This is the story of Cadet William Thaten, potential baseball star, who created a sensation Tuesday night at the illuminated ball park when he held down first base for the Red Jackets like a veteran. Cadet Thaten is only 14 years old. He is enrolled at the Torrance Military Academy, where he is the school's star fullback and captain of the baseball team. Tuesday night he was only a kid who made good a chance given him by Ed Tansey in the game with Huntington Beach. His fine playing helped the Jackets win, 8 to 3.

Tansey was short a first baseman and, seeing young Thaten playing catch with another boy on the sidelines, asked him if he would like to play with the Red Jackets. Would he? Would any kid with baseball ambitions?

—And he held down the pillow as good as any first baseman in the night baseball, according to Tansey. After the locals had the game on ice, they deliberately whipped hard catches to Thaten—and he took 'em, and held 'em. They tried to make him miss or fumble—but the boy snagged the drives like an old-timer. At last he took nice, clean cuts and smacked out a hit. "That youngster is good enough for any club," Tansey said after the game. "Next fall, if he's enrolled at the academy, I will certainly try to get permission for him to play with the Red Jackets."

LOWELL SHERMAN, actor, director, in his new starring vehicle, "High Stakes," opening Sunday at Warner Bros., San Pedro Theatre.

Perhaps the most novel motion picture to be shown in San Pedro this season has just been booked by Manager Fred C. Crow of Warner Bros. Theatre. It is "East of Borneo" and will play Thursday, Friday and Saturday. For the making of the exterior scenes an expedition from the Universal studios spent six months in the jungles of Sumatra and the Malay Peninsula. The result of this trip brings to the screen a drama told in the world's most exotic setting, and the climax of the picture shows the most awe-inspiring volcanic eruption ever captured by the camera.

"High Stakes" opens Sunday and will run for four days. Mae Murray and Lowell Sherman stage a reunion in this picture. A few years ago they were featured in "The Gilded Lily," then came "Bachelor Apartments" and now their latest, "High Stakes." You will see the "inside story" of the baby-faced ladies who prey upon the loneliness of wealthy men. "High Stakes" takes this situation and makes of it an exciting, swift melodrama, thrilling yet amusing in the situations it depicts.

The cast is studded with such bright names as Karen Morley, Charles Coleman, Leyland Hodgson, Phillip Smalley, Ethel Levey, Alan Roscoe and Maude Turner Gordon. Lowell Sherman directed.

REPEATS ALASKA TALK
Mrs. M. Louise Lynch, member of the National Business and Professional Women of Torrance, repeated her talk on her "Twenty Years in Alaska" before the Amaranth lodge at Lomita on Thursday evening. Since giving her talk before the local club on September 15, Mrs. Lynch has had a number of invitations to speak to other organizations here and in Los Angeles and the Bay district.

CHAMBER DRESSES UP
Attractive gold-lettered signs are to be placed on the Chamber of Commerce building, replacing the faded marker now in place. The interior of the office is also being renovated by the installation of a wide counter and shelves for the maps on file.

Mrs. Clark Shelton and Mrs. Paul Kasper enjoyed a bridge party at the home of Mrs. Fred Osmund of Huntington Beach last week. Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Shelton at their home on Arlington avenue were Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Watts of Laguna.

Mrs. May McKinley was the week-end guest of her sister, Mrs. W. Fred Bowen, of Los Angeles at Laguna Beach.
